

*Here is a set of Project Plans
from*

Copyright © 2004

All Rights Reserved

7

NAPKIN HOLDER

Contrasting types of odds and ends of plywood can be used to make a very useful napkin holder for the dinner table. Tack two pieces of stock for the teapot sides and cut these out on the scroll saw using a Delta No. 95 blade. The base has two blind grooves into which the sides are inserted with nails and glue.

Finish the project natural with shellac and varnish. A colorful decal can be used if desired.